Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

State Senator Jesse Mayo, editor of the Calaveras Prospect of San Andreas, writes a column in his paper, called, "Private Opinions Publicly Expressed." In the current issue there appears a thoughtful commentary on two matters of immediate interest to all intelligent citizens. One is upon the sorry spectacle of congressmen begging favors from bureaus which they have created and to which they have given legislative powers, and the other is the housing situation as it affects war industrial centers and the self-depopulated villages and towns of the rural and mountain areas of California. This is what he says:

"The sigh of 100 members of congress, mostly from the west, pleading with OPA not to go through with the December 1 gas rationing, is certainly a sorry spectable in the history of representative government. The fact that members of congress, whom the Constitution charges with making laws, saw fit to surrender that right and constitutional obligation to an administrative agency, only to have 100 members go before that agency with their hats in hand begging for the suspension of an order which has the force and effect of law, certainly doesn't make the people respect their representatives.

"Whether we should have gas rationing as a wartime necessity, (the Baruch committee said it was), is not the point at issue here. The point here is that members of congress and of state legislatures have been too lazy to sit down and make what laws are necessary, but have for the past 15 or 20 years merely written laws giving this or that agency blanket authority to do just about anything it might choose to or with the American people. And when the kick-back comes from the general public, these same legislators have to humble themselves before these agencies in order to stave off defeat at the next election. Is it any wonder, after watching our representatives for these many years that Hitler and his motley crew thought they could take us into camp.

"San Francisco has a real housing shortage says an article in the bay newspapers and that rooms for civilians and soldiers alike cannot be found. It would seem that many apartments, flats, and even homes could be relinquished in San Francisco by those who are merely "living" there and that homes could be found for them in the rural districts, such as the Mother Lode, where the draining off of workers to the large centers has left vacancies in these parts.

"Not only would such move help the housing shortage in the bay district, but the moving of non-essential families from that center to the Mother Lode would help maintain rural California's economic life to such an extent that after the war much of the dislocation of labor and industry would be eliminated. After the war the whole problem would be merely one of exchanging places of residence with those who were forced to move to the bay district to work in the war industries and those who left the city to make room for the incoming workers.

"The success of such a program will, of course, depend much upon the outcome of gasoline rationing and the length of time it takes to begin producing enough rubber to return to something near normal for automobile transportation. For those leaving the cities for homes in the country would certainly demand avenues of transportation back to the city for frequent visits in order not to be isolated in the country. The inauguration of such a program would seem to be the job for the State Council of Defense when it is reorganized after January 1."

Tom Legg Now Drives Navy Truck, At Noumea

Tom Legg, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Legg of this city, writes that he is now in Noumea, New Caledonia, having been transferred from sea duty in the Navy to driving a truck. It is inferred from his letter that in all probability he was on one of seven destroyers recently sunk by the Japs near the Solomons, though Legg, because of consorship rules, does not say so. He is driving a navy truck. His letter follows:

Dear Folks:

Please pardon the long delay between letters but just have not felt like writing. Am beginning to feel normal and relaxed again and hope, for a while at least to really be able to write frequently.

It surely seems good to be on dry land again and doing more familiar work. I am driving truck now and hope I can stay here for awhile. Driving for the navy is a snap as we dont have to load or unload our trucks. We either have 4 or 6 helper or else a crane or both. The best part about it is that I get to see a lot more of the country than if I was working at the station here.

This place is the closest thing to home I have hit so far, good hot days and clear skys but the nights are warm. The things I enjoy most are the hills not as rugged as at home but good respectable mountains coming down close to the ocean. We are living in tents but I dont mind in the least and it is sure swell to be able to take a little walk once in a while. I never knew before that walking is fun.

Your mail is coming through very well now that I am in one spot and I have received your packages for which I give you many thanks. The best thing is that I got them after my arrival so haven't lost them as I did everything eles.

I got Dad's Nov. 7th letter and was sure glad to hear from him. I am glad things are at last turning in our favor. Now maybe he will write oftener. We are all feeling very optimistic out here but still realize we are just starting up the long pull to the top but am sure the Japs have made as strong a bid as they could and their failure was magnificent. We sure gave them hell.

I am heartbroken, they are supposed to sell us two bottles of beer three days a week here and today was the first time I have had a chance to get any and so they called it off. I was all primed for a good bottle of beer especially since I am all hot, dusty and thirsty having just come off the truck but life in the navy is full of disappointments like that, so I should be used to it. I would sure give a lot for some ice cream or beer or something like that. I get into Neumea several times a day but can't get anything there.

Well folks I sure hope this finds everyone well and happy and not suffering too much from the sugar, coffee and gas rationing back there.

Pass this around the family and I will try to write more and better letters.

Love to ail, Tom Legg.

EARTHQUAKE WAKES UP NEVADA COUNTY

An earthquake, dealing out two distinct shocks, woke Nevada County residents this morning at 2:37 o'clock. The two jolts were sufficient to rattle windows, jiggle dishes on their shelves and set pictures hanging on the walls to swinging. So far as could be ascertained no material damage was done.

WILFORD JOYAL OF ARMY AIR SERVICE WEDS

News has reached Nevada City friends that Wilfred Joyal, 21, and Marjorie McIlhannon, 18, both of this city were married in Reno, Nev. sometime over the past week end and holiday. Joyal had been on furlough from the Army aviation service with relatives and friends here.

He graduated from the local schools and held several positions of trust before enlisting in the service of his country. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joyal, former residents now employed in war work in the bay area and has a wide circle of friends here who wish for him every happiness. During his high school days he was one of the Nugget's carriers, and a good one.

Rev. A. A. Kyburz of Downieville, acting publisher of the Downieville Messenger had a happy surprise when visiting Nevada City Tuesday in meeting the daughter in law of an old friend.

Bonebrake who was assisting with the work of dehydrating fruits and vegetables for the school lunches of the Nevada City school children. Mrs. Bonebrake's father in law was the Rev. L. Bonebrake, who passed away several years ago. He was president of Philomath college of Oregon when Rev. Kyburz was an instructor in the normal department of the college.

SEVENTY EIGHT PCT. OF PEOPLE BUY WAR BONDS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 3.—A recent survey by the Gallup poll revealed that 78% of Americans have bought War Bonds or Stamps.

Reporters for the poll asked a representative cross section of the voting population this question:

"Do you happen to have bought any war bonds or stamps?"

Yes— 78 per cent. No—22 per cent.

Dr. George H. Gallup, head of the Institute of Public Opinion, said the findings were splendid testimony to the effectiveness of the Treasury Department's War Savings Campaign.

Seeking the answer to the failure of one out of every five adult Americans to buy War Bonds or Stamps, Dr. Gallup made a further study and found that two large segments of the population—the lower income group and farmers, are responsible for this situation.

Following is a table comparing the purchase by the various groups:

Middle income and well to do—have bought 90 per cent; have not bought—10 per cent.

Lower income group—have bought —68 per cent; have not bought —32 per cent.

Farm group—have bought 71 per cent; have not bought—29 per cent.

Cities (10,000 or over) have bought—81 per cent; have not bought—19 per cent.

A breakdown of the bond and stamp purchases by occupations reveals that the professional man, the businessman, and the white collar workers are well ahead of other occupational groups in their bond and stamp buying.

NATIONAL PTA URGES CHILD REGISTRATION

A definite program for the registering and identification of children is being advocated by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. A telegram was sent to President Roosevelt by the Board of Managers meeting recently in Atlanta, Georgia, requesting that a uniform method for this be established. Mrs. Edward T. Hale, president of the California Congress was appointed by the National Board as a member of the nationwide committee to make immediate plans for putting into effect such a project. Says Mrs. Hale, "out of thirty two states reporting only four have a plan partially in effect, sixteen have no state wide plan and eleven are doing very limited work. California is doing organized work in the cities. Only Utah has a state wide plan in full operation."

Mrs. Hale represented the California congress at the National Recreation Congress meeting in Cincinnati September 28 to October 2. She was a discussant at one of the sessions on the question, "Meeting the Normal Needs of Children in Wartime."

It is planned to carry on the work five days a week in this vital work.

Harrison Randall, on the local staff of the P. G. & E., expects to join the army December 23. He will have a 7-day furlough and will be home over Christmas, but, he says, he will miss his wedding anniversary, which falls on New Years.

STOLEN STOVE CASE IS HEARD ON APPEAL

Judge George L. Jones heard testimony Tuesday in the appealed case of the People vs. Ray Hyman in the superior court.

Hyman, a Grass Valley business man, was found guilty of petty treft by Judge C. A. Morehouse in the Grass Valley court. A fine of $50 was levied.

William J. Cassettari, attorney for the defendant took an appeal to the superior court and the case was tried anew before Judge Jones. District Attorney Vernon Stoll conducted the prosecution.

Hyman was charged with taking a stove from a house owned by Mrs. Rose Nolan of Grass Valley and selling it without her consent.

It appeared from the evidence that the stove had been sold to Jensen & Thomas, Grass Valley Furniture dealers, for $40 and the sum applied on the payment of a bill Hyman owed that firm.

The defendant testifying in his own behalf stated that Mrs. Nolan told him he could have the stove and othe property and that she did not care what became of it. This statement was denied by Mrs. Nolan the prosecution witness.

Judge Jones took the case under advisement.

There were about 60 women working on the processing but about twenty have moved away or otherwise unable to attend.

SOLDIER BOYS PLANT TREES AT CAMP BEALE

Sixteen soldiers from Camp Beale in their work clothes livened up the streets of Nevada City Tuesday. They came over in an army truck to obtain live evergreen trees and toyon trees to use in landscaping Camp Beale which ot present is very bare of ornamentation. This planting is to brighten the camp for boys who come later for those there now will no doubt "be on their way" ere many months.

Under the supervision of W. F. Sharp head of the State Division of Forestry in Grass Valley, they gathered a number of young toyon trees to plant at the camp. Also from the State Division they obtained quite a number of young cedar trees which the department had already started and which were ready for transplanting. These trees had been taken care of at the Nevada City-Grass Valley highway quarters of the State Division of Forestry. Two hundred and fifty Cork Oak Trees were also given them. The State Forestry department had obtained these from the University of California Agricultural college at Davis, where an experiment in their growth is being carried on. It has been found that these Cork Oaks thrive especially well in Nevada City environment. Mr. Sharp has obtained a number of them for various persons in Nevada City. The boys will come back again for Christmas trees which they will gather under the supervision of the State Forestry department.

FARMERS MAY GET EMERGENCY GAS RATIONS

BERKELEY, Dec. 3.—Farm trucks owners whose certificates of war necessity provide insufficient gasoline rations for essential purposes during the month of December may get temporary rations from their local rationing boards, and may appeal for revisions of their certificates of necessity, it was announced today by Dave Davidson, chairman of the California USDA war board.

Emphisazing that applications for emergency rations should be confined to cases where an "obvious" error exists in the mileage granted by the certificate of necessity, Davidson stated that farm vehicle owners needing temporary rations should make application directly to their local rationing boards. All such emergency rations will later be deducted from the corrected certiicate of war necessity.

Davidson said farm transportation committees of county UDA war boards soon will have available the necessary forms for making appeals for revised certificates of war necessity and will assist farmers in filling them out. These committees then will consider each appeal and make appropriate recommendations to the office of Defense Transportation.

"This procedure will make it possible to keep essential vehicles rolling and at the same time give farm transportation committees and ODT officals time to give proper consideration to appeals for adjusted certificates," Davidson explained. "However I cannot urge too strongly that every farm vehicle owner confine his application for additional rations to the barest minimum necessary to maintain production. The transportation problem is serious and we cannot afford a single mile of non-essential driving."

LET THE GADGETS GO!

The American standard of living, very soon after this nation turns the corner of history into 1943, is due to slip down a precipice to an all time low that may leave Mr. and Mrs. Average American jarred and gasping. After repeating that warning with increased emphasis of late, government spokesmen now express fear that the slow, gradual and quite bearable drop thus far from the peace-time level of living has led many people to think that current dire predictions for the near future may be exaggerated in official minds.

Right now, 40 per cent of the nation's production is going for war. A few months hence, the war percentage will rise to 60. Yet, it might be reasoned, if people can still buy a majority of the things they could buy a year ago—radios, electric shavers and clocks, for example—are matters sure to grow so tough if civilian goods production is cut another 20 per cent?

Matters will be tough—and how! The deceiving circumstance is that Americans have been buying luxuries from national shelves that were filled to overflowing back in 1941 and the very early months of this year. Those shelves are running low. They aren't being replenished today — and when they become bare next year, the traditional standard of living will hit the toboggan. If the washing machine breaks down then, the housewife will have but one recourse, to the old wash-board—if she has a wash-board! The facts are inexorable!

Yet psychological preparedness for the change isn't the essential thing, after all. Protection of the basic standard for all American living—the standard of life as a free, sovereign community of 130,000,000 men, women and children under the Stars and Stripes—is all that is highly important now. To safeguard that standard for living, the American people will stand the gaff of privation, however tough. Everything sacrificed for victory may be rebuilt and regained after the war.

Meanwhile—let the gadgets go!

ONE YEAR OF WAR

On Monday of next week will fall the first anniversary of a black day in American history—the attack on Pearl Harbor, On Tuesday, the United States will have been officially at war one year.

A year of war is never other than tragic to look back upon, in many respects. Thousands of deaths, men lost as prisoners, anxieties, griefs, military reverses, civilian sacrifices—all are inevitable in every year of every war. And victory seems far ahead at this time.

A comparison of America's position now, however, with her position at the end of the first year of the World War, shows that we are vastly better off now than we were then.

At the year's end, in 1918, Russia had collapsed, Germany had concentrated all forces in the west, the tremendous Battle of the Somme, with Europe's fate in the balance, was raging. Now, Germany has failed to escape the fate of fighting on two fronts. Russia has not failed.

In 1918 American artillery units were obliged to borrow artillery from the French—so inadequate was our own production! Now, America is not only fully supplying her own new army with the best weapons of every type, but is producing and delivering vast armaments to her allies.

America has far more troops under arms than in April, 1918—and they are better trained, more thoroughly seasoned. Hundreds of thousands of them have been in training longer than the entire period of our participation in the first World War.

Then, in our inexperience and experimental haste, we built planes unfit to fly—built ships, in hundreds of instances, so unseaworthy that they never left port, and rotted in harbors until sold for junk. Now, because industrial and military brains profited by the lessons of '17-'18, America has built soundly as well as swiftly, and is on the way to creation, in the next year, of the finest fighting force in history, backed by a mighty industrial force of machines and workers.

What this nation has accomplished in one year of war is cause for confidence that America shall develop power to achieve final victory.

THE PRISONER'S SONG

An official of the Government Requirements Division of the War Production Board visited San Quentin prison recently to inspect the prison's war industries. Hundreds of inmates stood straight and proud—for the first time since they had entered prison—while a representative of the United States government looked upon the work of their hands and machines and found it good.

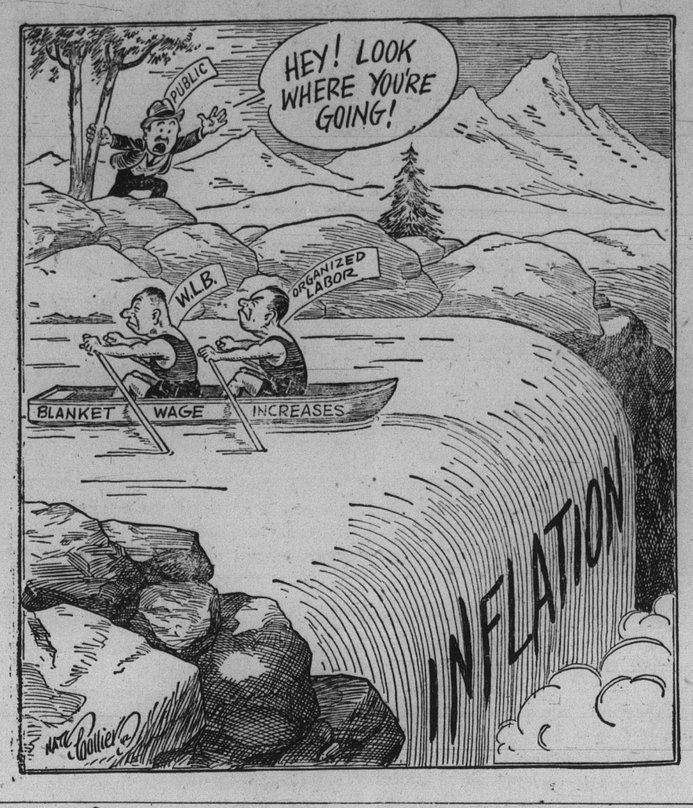
When men of San Quentin were first asked by the warden if any wished to volunteer for special work within the walls for the war effort, more men than could be used stepped forward.

Today more than 60 per cent of the 4600 men on parole in California are aiding in the war through service in the Army, war industry, the merchnt marine, agriculture and construction.

The material contribution of these men, with the manpower shortage acute, is considerable. Also of great worth, to themselves and to society, is the spiritual lift it must give them to have active parts in the struggle of their native land for survival and victory.

Love of country is one of the deepest and strongest feelings common to all men. It by no means follows that because a man has violated the laws of his country that he would not willingly work or die to defend it. It is good that a man may do service to the cause of his country's freedom while he does penance to regain his own. "The Star Spangled Banner" is the song of songs in the hearts of many men in prison cells.

DANGER AHEAD!



Christmas 1942.... share it!

Memories of home tug hardest during the holiday season. Recruit and veteran alike feel it. Share your Christmas holidays with the boys in Service. It is the kindest, most sincere way to show you care.

Furloughs for the holidays have been restricted. Return to home will have to wait until Victory and Peace have been attained. There is a boy who will miss Christmas at Aunt Martha's up on the coast of Maine. There is a boy with a southern drawl who will miss old Liza's cooking. There is a ranch boy from Wyoming who will miss his Sis, home from college for the brief vacation. There are thousands of boys such as these—away from home, each one eager to meet home folks, talk to someone who reminds him of Dad or Mother or Uncle Hal or Aunt Cassie. And without fussing he'd like to be "one of the family" for a day.

Adopt a son of Uncle Sam during the holidays. Call your local U. S. O.

FARM WAR NEWS

The Nevada County USDA War Board announces that further "unfreezing" of farm machinery topped the news of interest to Nevada County farmers this week. Under terms of farm machinery rationing order C, which supplants the recent temporary order B, procedure is set up for rationing by county USDA War Board farm machinery rationing boards. Boards may immediately ration machinery in the hands of the dealers and certain other machinery, including farm pumps and windmills, irrigation equipment, dairy milk cans, and fencing. State and county quotas on other machinery in the hands of manufacturers and distributors are being set up. Local boards will ration from these quotas.

FARM WAR NEWS

The Nevada County USDA War Board announces that because of labor shortages and other production problems, an alarming number of California dairy cows have been slaughtered in recent months. Due to increased population, dairy needs of the state will be heavier than ever during the coming year, so it is essential that production be maintained. Any farmer who finds it necessary to dispose of a dairy type cow is urged to get in touch with the county USDA Board at Grass Valley.

AVOID RACING ENGINE

Racing a cold engine burns gasoline just as though the car were speeding, says the California State Automobile Association. The choke should be closed as soon as the engine runs evenly, to prevent excess fuel being drawn into the cylinders and wasted. Cars with automatic choke should be driven slowly until the engine warms up.

VICTORY FOOD SPECIALS

Grapefruit has been designated as a "Victory Food Special" for the period December 3 to 12. This bumper crop is now hitting the peak of its market season. To meet increased feed needs in 1943, corn acreage allotments in the midwest commercial corn belt have been increased 5 per cent.

LOWLY ITEMS GONE TO WAR

The familiar galvanized garbage pail and water bucket have gone to war. To save zinc, manufacture of all galvanized ware has been greatly restricted. Since farmers who do not receive regular monthly incomes readily adopt the payroll savings plan, they are urged to adopt the slogan "make every market day bond day" and set aside a portion of the proceeds of every sale of farm products for war bonds.

Plenty of Wild Animals Still Roam California

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 3.—(UP)—There are still wild animals running loose in California.

The state division of fish and game reported that 12 lions were sent in for bounty during October, four from El Dorado county, two from Los Angeles and one each from San Diego, Monterey, Lake, Mendocno, Fresno and Kern.

Trappers reported in addition 323 coyotes and 81 bobcats and 199 other predators.

Cream for Coffee But No Whipping Cream

To combat a critical butter shortage, the WPB prohibited dairy producers from distributing whipping cream or other heavy cream. The order does not affect coffee cream and does not apply to any farmer who delivers up to four quarts of heavy cream per day if his deliveries averaged less than one gallon daily in the three months ended November 25.

Wasted money is wasted lives. Don't waste precious lives. Every dollar you can spare should be used to buy War Bonds. Buy your ten per cent every pay day.

CAR DRIVERS DO COOPERATE

The Public Roads Administration said its surveys show the average speed of passenger cars on rural highways since the institution of the 35 mile an hour speed limit has been reduced to 37 miles per hour and trucks to 36 miles per hour. Another survey showed that in 12 war plants in six states the majority of the employees travel to work by automobiles. Office of Defense Transportation Director Eastman recommended that buses and stret cars space their stopping places in cities at distances from 600 to 1200 feet. He said any distance less than 500 feet would be wasteful of rubber, gasoline and equipment.

CHRISTMAS TREE PERMITS THIS YEAR RESTRICTED

E. M. Stone of the Tahoe National Forest states that sales of Christmas trees this year will be about one third the number sold last season. While cutting has not yet ended, contractors, it is expected, will take 10,000 trees this year as against 30,000 last year.

"As a rule Christmas tree sales to consumers are made after working hours," said Mr. Stone. "But this year owing to the dimout most of these markets must operate in a near blackout. The uncertainty pertaining to tires also affected our sales."

Most of the Christmas trees are being cut in the Bloomfield district under the supervision of Ranger P. C. Case. He reports that 3,600 trees have been cut there to date. The Tahoe National Forest receives 5 cents per lineal foot per tree.

BUREAUCRATS REACH OUT FOR MORE POWER

By CLEM WHITAKER

State and local governments, long threatened with being swallowed up by the federal government—just as the whale swallowed Jonah— will be lucky if they come through the war with a whole skin and any remnant of their independent sovereignty!

That becomes clealer each day, as Washington bureaucrats, taking advantage of the eople's pre-occupation with the war, put on the pressure in their drive to usurp state and local prerogatives and concentrate authority in an all powerful national government.

Pending, at this writing, are sweeping proposals that the federal government through the War Labor Board, assume jurisdiction over the wages, hours and working conditions of state and municipal employees—and recognize the right of such employees to go on strike.

It is hardly necessary to point out that if national government once obtains such jurisdiction over city and state employees that the various mayors and oovernors, city councils and legislatures, will have about the same degree of independent authority that the Vichy government in France has under Hitler. A state which can't control its own state employees has ceased to be a state—and certainly that is doubly true when another authority can authorize them to strike against the state.

American city and state officials, however, are finally aroused and will voice their opposition, in vigorous language on Dec. 9, when the War Labor Board brings the issue to a show down with hearings on the following disputed cases:

1. Whether the WLB shall order the city of Newark, N. J., to reinstate 15 workers, including several officials of the CIO Municipal Employees Union, who took part in a six day strike of garbage collectors several months ago.

2. Whether the WLB shall assume jurisdiction in a controversy between the city of New York and the Transport Workers Union, CIO, over demands for a 15 per cent wage increase for 32,000 civil service employees of the city's transportation system.

Spearheading the opposition, Mayor La Guardia of New York, president of the United States Conference of Mayors, has declared flatly that the federal government cannot chang wages fixed by state or municipal laws; that the WLB has no jurisdiction over disputes between governmental agencies and their civil service employees, and that civil service employees and that public employees have no right to strike.

Equally emphatic in denouncing the new attempt at federal encroachment on local government, H. E. Kaplan, secretary of the National Civil Service Reform League, has declared: "No greater imposition by a federal agency on the constitutional prerogatives of the state has even been attempted."

It remains to be seen, now, who will win. If Washington wins, it may mean the beginning of the end for home rule in America—at least until the American people learn about it!

SIGNAL CORPS TO TAKE OVER FARM SCHOOL AT DAVIS

DAVIS, Dec. 3.—(UP)—Students at the California College of Agriculture—those that are left, at least—will go to other campuses to finish their education after the first of the year.

The Davis campus, meantime, will be devoted entirely to the war effort, in training army signal corps enlistees and in carrying on research and field work vital to wartime agriculture.

A joint announcement of University of California officials and the army said this week that 300 signal corps men will begin study at Davis before January and their number will be increased to 1000 after the beginning of the new semester, Feb. 6th.

It was pointed out that the student body at the agricultural college —which is predimonately male—has been dwindling because of the selective service act and inducements to enter war industries. The number of students is expected to be reduced still further by operation of the draft of 18 and 19 year olds.

TURN THE ENGINE OVER

Drivers were advised to turn the engine over in the morning by stepping on the starter once of twice with the ignition turned off. This action paves the way for a quick start when the ignition is switched on.

WAR WEEK REVIEW

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Operations on all fronts against the Axis are progressing favorably, Secretary of War Stimson said. He summarized the situation as follows: (1) The Germans have failed in all of their main objectives for the year in Russia and will have to withdraw from wide areas unless they can stop the Russian counter-offensive. (2) The allies are building up strong assault forces in Tunisia to oust the Axis, but the enemy there will "offer a strong resistance." (3) American and Australian troops have cornered substantial numbers of Japenese troops between Gona and Buna in New Guiena. (4) Although weather conditions make extensive activity difficult in the Aleutians, American fliers are doing everything possible to harass the enemy.

Navy Secretary Knox said it is unlikely the Japanese can get reinforcements into Guaradcanal. Australian troops, advancing on Buna, have smashed Japanese counterattacks, while allied bombers blasted enemy gun nests and morta emplacements, Gen. MacArthur's New Guinea headquarters reported November 28. Japanese naval orces however, despite heavy losses, have landed "strong fresh reinforcements" on the Buna-Gona beachhead. Earlier allied airmen sank two and probably three troop laden destroyers and definitely sank one other destroyer and two smaller vessels.

Communiques during the week reported allied forces in North Africa destroyed 100 Axis planes and 21 medium tanks at the cost of nine allied planes destroyed and four damaged. The War Department estimated U. S. army and navy casualties from the initial landings in the North African operations: Army — killed 350; wounder, 900; missing 350; the Navy, killed, 10; wounded, 150; missing 150.

"TRY THE TRAIN"

Between Dec. 15 and Jan. 5

★ Advance reservations must be made for both coach and sleeping car travel between Dec. 15th and Jan. 5th.

★ We can not make coach reservations by telephone.

★ No coach reservations will be made unless you have a ticket.

★ Seats in coaches will be sold only to seating capacity of cars.

★ No extra sections of regular trains will be operated.

Southern Pacific is facing a critical situation in connection with holiday travel. Many thousands of men in uniform are being given holiday furloughs. We think everyone agrees that these men should be given first consideration. We intend to carry them wherever they wish to go.

Where men in uniform are not going on furlough they will be visited, in many cases, by their parents or wives. Their travel requirements must be recognized, too.

The tide of war traffic — troops, equipment, supplies and war materials — is mounting higher and higher, and we are hard pressed to supply the equipment to move it. Every locomotive we have or can rent is being used. The supply of passenger-carrying cars left for civilian use is naturally reduced.

Consequently, we will not be able to carry all the people who want to make holiday trips, despite all our efforts to increase the passenger-carrying capacity of our trains.

This is why we ask you not to travel during the holiday season.
